Hearing on seizure of records at steel plant

A hearing Thursday at the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville may shed additional light on the April 30 search of Granite City Steel records, an occurrence disclosed May 1 by the Press-Record.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and the Illinois attorney general's office obtained a search warrant from retiring Associate Judge William Johnson to check the plant's record of pollution testing and test results.

Records seized relate to Dec. 19 testing of electrostatic precipitator stack emissions at the basic oxygen furnace. The records are being held by the Circuit Court until Thursday's hearing.

Records were confiscated from Granite City Steel offices by state EPA agents and the company petitioned the next day, May 1, for the state to surrender them to the courts pending clarification of the legality of the search.

The hearing will deal with the steel firm's motion to quash the search warrant, to suppress evidence and to return the records to the company.

It is contended the seizure was in violation of the U.S. and Illinois Constitutional provisions banning unreasonable searches and seizures.

Granite City Steel challenges the authority of the Illinois EPA to obtain a search warrant unless it first files a complaint.

Richard H. Briceland, EPA director, has acknowledged the action was unprecedented. He alleged that the company knowingly released incomplete and misleading information to the EPA, in an attempt to give an impression that it is in general compliance with state anti-pollution efforts.

Briceland described the confiscation as a warning to all who may have misinterpreted the agency's enforcement policy. "We stress conciliatory methods to get voluntary compliance, which is certainly the most desirable," Briceland commented. "I've also said that the big stick still must be used when needed. The Granite City situation is a good example."

The decision to seek the warrant was made after consultation with Attorney General William J. Scott's staff. Some Springfield view it as a test case.

Larry R. Eaton, an assistant attorney general in charge of the office's Environmental Protection Division, said the

Sewer break during last night's rain

A new sewer break of major proportions developed at Jill and Wayne avenues Sunday night during heavy rains and a severe electrical storm that flooded basements in many homes and blocked traffic temporarily at a number of street intersections throughout the area.

More than half an inch of rain fell in several periods that began about 10 p.m. and continued until after midnight. A heavy fall of pea-size hail was reported by residents in the northern section of Granite City about 10:30 p.m.

Work crews of the Illinois Power Co. were kept busy throughout the night repairing damage to individual power lines damaged by lightning. A power company spokesman said there were no major outages involving problems with power circuits. He said he was surprised that the intensity of the electrical storm caused no more damage than it did.

He said two transformers were knocked out by lightning, one at Pontoon Beach and one on Highway 162 in the Stallings area. Much of the trouble was caused by blown lateral fuses which separate individual lines from the main circuits, he said.

Lionel Portell, Granite City street superintendent, said the new sewer break developed about 11 p.m. when a section of Jill Avenue at Wayne Avenue collapsed in the center of the street. The street caved in about a foot deep in an area four feet wide and eight feet long, Portell said.

Work began today to fill the excavation with rock until street department workers can determine the full extent of the break.

Rainfall totaling 3.6 of an inch was reported at 8 a.m. today for the previous 24-hour period at the Chain of Rocks Locks where weather records are maintained for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Most of the total fall occurred Sunday night.

The heaviest rainfall between 10:30 p.m. and 11 p.m. overflowed many of the sanitary sewer lines through sewer breaks in the Nameoki area. Portell said that by 11:50 p.m. the stormwater saturation of the sanitary lines had knocked seven lift stations out of operation. The city has 17 such lift stations.

As a result, water backed into basements of many homes, Portell said.

A number of streets were flooded by the heavy rain, particularly at Leonard Avenue and Nameoki Road where water rose high enough to run into the Grand Cleaners; Myrtle and St.

Clair avenues, Myrtle and Leonard avenues, the 800 block of Washington Avenue and at Nameoki Road and Washington Avenue.

Portell said the streets cleared of water rapidly after the rain stopped, but that at times during and immediately after the rain water was deep enough to block traffic.

The new sewer break at Jill and Wayne, the third break along Jill Avenue in that area, is the 40th break to occur since the spring floods of 1973 resulted in a rising water table that causes sanitary lines to "float" and break.

Three-month McDonnell strike over

Striking machinists at McDonnell Douglas Corp. overrode a recommendation of their negotiating committee and voted nearly 2 to 1 Sunday to ratify a contract proposal.

The machinists — on strike for 13 weeks — will return to work Tuesday. Claude Barnes Jr., assistant directing business representative for District 827 of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, described the vote as "The voice of the membership."

Of a total of 7,445 members casting ballots in the ratification meeting at Kiel Convention Hall, 4,609 voted to accept the proposal, while 2,786 voted against it. The rank and file decision followed a recommendation of the negotiating committee that the proposal be rejected.

Barnes, acting for District 837 President Cosimo (Gus) Troia who was hospitalized in Washington after lengthy negotiations to end the strike, said, "We (the negotiators) felt like it wasn't enough money for the 13-week strike we were in."

Law enforcement praised

Mayors of the four local communities have designated this week as "Law and Order Week" and in issuing a formal proclamation are asking all Quad-Cityans to accord "due honors to all our law enforcement officers."

Participating in a proclamation signing ceremony at the City Hall in Granite City were Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison, Mayor William M.

Ebersold of Venice and Harry Taylor, exalted ruler, Granite City Elks Lodge 1063. Mayor Floyd D. Moe, of Pontoon Beach was unable to attend the brief ceremony.

As part of the week-long observance, the Granite City Elks Lodge will sponsor its annual "Law and Order" banquet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the lodge, 1329 Niedringhaus Ave. A capacity crowd is expected. Cocktails at 6:30 will precede the dinner hour.

Featured speaker will be Norman Ross Otters, director of the Illinois Motor Vehicle Division and assistant to Michael J. Howlett, Illinois secretary of state.

Otters is a former Federal Bureau of Investigation agent and chief investigator in the Midwest Region since 1971 under the direction of the U.S. House of Representatives Commission on Crime. He earned a personal commendation from the U.S. Attorney General.

Warehouses will be built

A new $44,000 storage building at the Jenson-Wright Corp., 22nd Street and the railroad tracks, a new $30,000 warehouse for Gateway Drywall Co., 4008 Braden Ave., a $47,000 remodeling permit for Paddlers' Swim Club, 2121 Johnson Road, and a $12,000 storage addition to Charlie's Restaurant, Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road, were among building permits with values totaling $225,198 issued by Granite City during April.

The April figure is lower than the $679,513 values listed for permits issued in March. March permits, however, included a new $585,000 building to house Madison County Federal Savings and Loan.

The new Jenson-Wright Corp. building is to be a pole-barn type structure located at the company's present plant. Gary Davis applied for the Gateway Drywall permit. The warehouse presently is under construction at the company's main site near West Pontoon Road and the railroad tracks. Paddlers' Swim Club is initiating a comprehensive program to remodel and decorate its facilities. Work is underway.

The new addition to Charlie's Restaurant, presently under construction, is to be used primarily for storage and working area, according to a spokesman.

Lone bandit takes $400

A lone robber armed with a revolver held up Rubenstein's Family Shoe Store, 22 Nameoki Shopping Center, at 8:30 p.m. Friday and escaped with approximately $400 in cash and $118 in checks.

Ed Martin, store manager, reported the bandit walked into the store and said, "Give me the money."

Martin told police he put the cash and checks into a paper bag and handed it to the robber.

The bandit was described as white, of stocky build with long dark hair, a small beard and possible mustache. He wore a white jacket with black and red stripes, Martin said.

State assails pace of integration in Madison schools

Three school districts in this Illinois metropolitan area — including Madison School District 12 — have done nothing to improve their segregated status since 1971 when Illinois districts were ordered to desegregate by state law.

State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin told the State Board of Education Thursday.

John Palchek, superintendent of Madison schools, was reported in Washington, and Harold Friak, board president, could not be reached for comment.

But Chester McMinnaway, former president of the Madison School Board, said the district "has done many things" to reduce segregation in the Madison district. He declined further comment, noting that he had not read Cronin's report and was not acquainted with the action taken by the state board in Springfield.

The other two districts in which the status of segregation has not changed since 1971 are East St. Louis School District 189 and Cahokia School District 187, Cronin reported. He told the state board that his report was based on data furnished by the districts last year.

In all, Cronin identified 26 school districts which he said are more segregated than allowed under rules and regulations adopted in 1971, including the three districts in this region.

The board issued a policy statement on the 1971 desegregation regulations and

The larger pipe protects the inner pipe from breaking due to highway weight and vibration. The road widening is planned by the state Department of Transportation in conjunction with the extension of Maryville Road from Pontoon Road to Route 162. Work also has started to put larger pipe around 200 feet of the natural gas line farther north where the Maryville Road extension is to be constructed.

Scout-O-Rama is Saturday

Some people may think "The Greatest Show on Earth" is a circus, but those who are planning to attend the Cahokia Mound Scout Council Scout-O-Rama Saturday at the Wilson park ice rink between noon and 8 p.m. may change their mind, according to Lew Bunch, chairman of the event. Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers will have 50 booths with several hundred youths demonstrating their skills. Topics will include sand art, cooking skills, archery, Indian dancing, railroad games, cycling, law enforcement, karate, preventative health care, fishing, first aid, camping, rabbits, bee keeping, coins, and a "shoot the monster" booth.

Purpose of the event is to show what the Boy Scout program is really about, and how relative and important it is in developing youth, according to Bunch.

Admission is $1 and tickets may be purchased at the door or from any Cub, Scout or Explorer in the Quad-Cities.

Tower Lake rentals increased

A $10-per-month increase in rental charges for family housing at Tower Lake Apartments on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was approved Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees. The rate for all single students was set at $30 per month, as it is at present for the Tower Lake II complex.

The board, meeting at SIUE also authorized SIUE officers to begin retaining tuition and student fees to offset utility cost increases at the "all-electric" Tower Lake II complex. The use of up to $150,000 annually in tuition and fees to meet annual maintenance, debt service costs and revenue reserves was authorized by the board in the original bond issue resolution approved by the board in October, 1973.

Effective Sept. 1, the rental rates at Tower Lake will be: $50 per month single student (four students per apartment); $135 per month for a two-bedroom apartment, unfurnished; $145 per month for a two-bedroom apartment, furnished, or a three-bedroom apartment, unfurnished; and $185 per month for a three-bedroom apartment, furnished.

The housing code stipulates that "as a service to incoming faculty-staff, housing facilities will be available to them while they secure permanent housing. Faculty-staff shall be limited to a six-month contract at a rate which is, as to each type of unit, $70 higher than above."

According to the University Housing Office, Illinois Power Co. has been authorized by the Illinois Commerce Commission to change the billing of family housing units (Tower Lake I) from the "commercial" to "residential" rate, resulting in a $36,000 increase in utility charges. In addition, the utility increased electricity and gas rates 15 and 20 per cent respectively, effective last February.

The Housing Office explained that original utility costs for single student housing (Tower Lake II) were estimated at $35 per unit, based on experience at Tower Lake I. But the University's request for gas for Tower Lake II was denied, forcing the University into an "all electric" project. The actual utility costs in the new project are exceeding budgeted costs approximately $30 per unit, for an additional anticipated annual expense of $89,280.

300 students hear symphony

After Tuesday, all fourth grade students in Madison and Venice public and parochial schools — all three hundred of them — will have attended a St. Louis Symphony Concert this year.

This was made possible through a joint effort of the Venice-Madison Fine Arts Committee and the Humanities program of the Madison Community Unit District No. 12. Tickets were purchased by the Venice-Madison Fine Arts Committee through a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, an agency of the state of Illinois. Students in the Madison schools have been attending the concerts each year since 1951. However, this is the first year that tickets were bought for them.

Today the students in Mrs. Helen Purkale's class and Mrs. Hattie Utley's class (Venice Grade School), Mrs. Rosie Field's class (Dunbar School), and Mrs. Sharon Heubner's class (Louis Beer School) are scheduled to hear a preconcert lecture on the symphony program given by Jim Kerfoot, graduate student at SIU at Edwardsville. Kerfoot is a candidate for a Master's Degree in Music Education in the performance area. The flute is his instrument and he recently performed his senior recital on that instrument. He is a former graduate of Collinsville High School.

The symphony program Tuesday will be conducted by Gerhard Zimmerman, assistant conductor. The program will consist of Bartok's, "Rumanian Folk Dances" and "Concerto for Orchestra (2nd movement), Stravinsky's "Firebird Suite" (1919), and Sousa's "Stars and Stripes."

Mrs. Margaret Lee is chairman of the Venice-Madison Fine Arts Committee and Mrs. Marguerite Connole is the director of the Humanities program.

Alternative school is explained to Kiwanians

Working with "attitudes" is the best way to describe the alternative school program now in its third year in the Granite City school system, according to Donald Shaffner, coordinator of off-campus programs.

Shaffner spoke Thursday morning to the Breakfast meeting in Charlie's Restaurant.

Students with problems adjusting to school are worked with on an individual basis in the program which has 50 pupils enrolled at the present time.

Shaffner explained the problems of adjustment are varied and could range from drug-related problems to family problems.

He told the Kiwanians the program is geared for the individual who may attend some classes at the regular high school and some at Co-ordinated Youth Services who are cooperating with the school district in the program.

Funds for the alternative school are provided by the state, local school board and the United Way.

Cahokia Mounds field school for excavations

The Cahokia Mounds Museum will conduct a field school for the nonprofessional archaeologist during the summer. The school will consist of five two-week sessions with five and a half days (44 hours) per week. Classes will be limited to ten students supervised by museum staff members and university students who have had archaeological experience at Cahokia. Field school students must be 18 years old or older and in good physical condition.

The tuition fee of $50 must be paid one week before the beginning of the session. The museum furnishes all tools and excavation supplies. Students are responsible for their personal expenses — food, lodging, transportation, etc. A limited number of free primitive camping sites will be available for those who wish to stay at the camp.

It should be noted that weather conditions at Cahokia are somewhat less than perfect. The temperature and humidity are often above 90; and during a wet summer, water may rise above the excavation floor. However, a true enthusiast will not let this dampen his spirits, officials said.

The 1975 schedule of classes is: Session one, June 9 thru June 21; Session Two, June 23 thru July 5; Session Three, July 7 thru July 19; Session Four, July 21 thru Aug. 2; Session Five, Aug. 4 thru Aug. 16.

Slatkin signs new contract

Leonard Slatkin has signed a two-year contract as principal guest conductor of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra for 1976-78. It was announced by Peter Pastreich, executive director of the orchestra. Slatkin presently holds the position of associate principal conductor effective through the 1975-1976 season.

Symphony Society President Beat H. Wells said "Mr. Slatkin's new contract is happy news for all of us. His growing international career seems to have inspired him to give even more of himself to the St. Louis community — if this is possible. We look forward to his imaginative programs and exciting performances."

Slatkin came to St. Louis in 1968 at Walter Susskind's invitation as assistant conductor; he was elevated to the position of associate conductor in 1971 and became associate principal conductor in March, 1974.

The Hollywood-born Slatkin has become one of the most sought-after young conductors in the world. He made his European debut as conductor of the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra on Nov. 21, 1974, at Royal Festival Hall, London, replacing the ailing Sir Adrian Boult. Immediately following the performance, Slatkin was re-engaged for two weeks next season.

Within a one-year period, Slatkin has been asked to guest conduct in New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and Chicago. He will also open the Denver Symphony Orchestra's 1975-76 season.

Hailed as "The front running American conductor since Leonard Bernstein," by Chicago Today critic, Roger Dettmer, following his appearance as principal conductor of the Grant Park Symphony Orchestra last summer, Slatkin also received rave reviews for his concerts with the New York Philharmonic and Chicago Symphony last season. In addition to his conducting duties with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, he serves as principal guest conductor of the Minnesota Orchestra.

He has recorded music from the film "The Exorcist" with the BBC Orchestra in England released on the Warner Brothers label. He also had conducted the works of George Gershwin with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra on the Vox label which is now available.

SIU board favors collective bargaining for universities

The Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University approved Thursday a resolution favoring collective bargaining for public universities.

The resolution states specifically that the board's position will be "in favor of a bill enabling collective bargaining for public universities, having due regard for the recommendations of the Joint Council of Higher Education Officers."

The resolution further requests the SIU system counsel "to implement this resolution before the legislature in determining exactly what action should be taken in regard to any specific item of legislation or legislative process."

The resolution also stipulates that "no position is taken on whether or not such legislation, if enacted, should be implemented on any of our campuses."

Trustees heard reports that 18 separate measures having to do with public employee collective bargaining are currently being considered in the General Assembly.

The Joint Council of Higher

Education Officers has a subcommittee on collective bargaining legislation which has been studying the bills and has offered recommendations for certain amendments to at least one of the bills, trustees were told.

Wishbone Ash at SIUE May 30

Wishbone Ash with guest stars Aerosmith and Kansas will be presented in concert Friday, May 30, at the Mississippi River Festival site at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The 5 p.m. program is being sponsored by the University Center Board, according to Gene Haffner, director.

An internationally known

British group, Wishbone Ash will feature music from "There's The Rub," an album recorded last fall in Miami. The tunes include "Silver Shoes," "Don't Come Back," "Persophone," "Hometown," "Lady Day," and "F-U-B-B."

According to producer Bill Szymczyk, "The album cover depicts a cricketer rubbing a cricket ball on his trousers, always a curious practice, but designed apparently to increase spin, hence the album title.

Members of the group include Andy Powell, electric and acoustic guitars, mandolin, vocals; Laurie Wisefield, electric and acoustic guitars, banjo, steel guitar, vocals; Martin Turner, lead vocals, bass guitar; and Steve Upton, drums, percussion.

Following a recent performance, critic Pete Makowski described "F-U-B-B" as "undoubtedly the finest number of the night... The number began with some heavy fuzz bass guitar from Martin Turner, joined by the twin apostrophes of Powell and Wisefield, building up to an ear-shattering crescendo, with Wisefield and Powell in the center of the stage trading licks at incredible speed."

According to Cash Box magazine, "Aerosmith is bursting with rhythm and raunch, carrying on in the tradition of The Stones, but with the new rock innuendo of the 70's." A reviewer for The Providence Journal Bulletin stated recently: "Aerosmith has the strongest, most powerful sound to emanate from Boston. It is rough and raunchy, but melodic at the same time."

The Boston-based group includes Steve Tarrico, lead singer; Joe Perry, lead guitar; Joey Kramer, guitar; Tom Hamilton, bass; Brad Whitford, drums; and Adrian Barber, who worked with Cream and the Allman Bros.

Tickets were placed on sale last week at KSHE box office locations; Union Jack in Belleville and St. Clair Square; Larry's Men's Shop, Eastgate Plaza; Halpin Music Co. in Alton; and the University Center. Prices are $3.50 for general admission, and $3.50, $4.50 and $5.50 for reserved seats.

DOT hearings on freeway

The Illinois Department of Transportation has scheduled two public informational meetings to present alternate study alignments for Illinois Supplemental Freeway, F. A. Route 413. The segment under study is proposed to connect Interstate Highway 55, west of Collinsville, to U. S. Route 67 near Godfrey.

Illinois Transportation Secretary Langhorne M. Bond said the purpose of the meetings is to inform the public of the progress of the study to date and to elicit comments and suggestions from the audience.

Harland Bartholomew and Associates, consulting engineers from Memphis, Tenn., has undertaken extensive background studies prior to delineating alternate alignments.

Representatives from the Memphis firm will make general presentations of these alternate alignments at public meetings on Tuesday at the Madison County Farm Bureau auditorium, 900 Hillboro Ave., Edwardsville, and on Wednesday at the Village Services Building, West Main Street, East Alton. Both presentations are open to the public, and are scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

On the day of each meeting, representatives of Harland Bartholomew and Associates will be available at the respective meeting places from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. to answer individual questions and respond to comments from area residents.

The alternate alignments are comprised of a number of short study segments developed as a result of background analysis. These segments represent short corridors, approximately 500 feet in width, which when connected in different combinations, show complete alternate alignments between I-55 and U. S. Highway 67.

Following the public meetings, the consultants, in cooperation with Illinois DOT, will evaluate all alternatives and select two or three alignments to be studied in greater detail and evaluated with respect to their impact on agriculture, urban development, the natural environment, and the socioeconomic characteristics of the study area.

To encourage citizen participation in the study, Harland Bartholomew and Associates has established a toll free telephone to its Memphis office. Any one can dial 1-800-238-7320 between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. today through Friday to ask questions or register comments regarding this project.

Employers to be honored for helping handicapped

The Illinois Governor's Committee on the Handicapped and the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation have announced that special awards will be presented at this year's State Fair to outstanding employers in the State for their achievements in employment of disabled persons.

The awards are designed to honor individuals and businesses for their active roles in encouraging and facilitating suitable, gainful employment opportunities for persons with permanent physical or mental handicaps.

The awards are being made in conjunction with the Illinois Governor's Committee's nominations for the national awards sponsored each year by the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. Illinois nominees will be selected by a panel of representatives from industry and consumer groups working with the disabled, who are familiar with employment issues.

Two awards will be made, to a large (over 200 employees) and a small (under 200) Illinois employer or firm whose policies in hiring and promotion actively support employment of the disabled. Any employer in private business or industry whose efforts have resulted in increased employment opportunities is eligible for nomination.

To insure consideration for national awards, nominations must be received by the Governor's Committee no later than June 10. Further information and nomination forms are available from the Governor's Committee on the Handicapped, 160 N. LaSalle St., Chicago, IL 60601, or from any Division of Vocational Rehabilitation office.

Essay contest deadline

Deadline for entering Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett's Bicentennial Essay Contest is June 1.

Open to Illinois grade and high school students, the contest calls for entries of 150 to 200 words on the theme "What is the Spirit of '76?"

Many students have submitted essays to their principals in the early stages of the contest," said Howlett. "In the three weeks remaining, there is time for all school children to put their Bicentennial thoughts in writing."

The final 72 essays will be judged by Secretary Howlett's Bicentennial Committee that selected the winners in the Bicentennial License Plate Contest held last year.

The committee, consisting of business, professional and civic leaders, will narrow the essays to the best in each division. A grand champion named this fall will be awarded a $1,000 educational savings bond. The two runners-up will receive $500 bonds.

Yates, Wallace win at Speedway, ice doesn't

Ron "Crash" Wilson survived a stunt show of driving a convertible auto through a 3,000-pound ice barricade at Tri-City Speedway Saturday night, and Granite City sportsmen class stock car drivers survived competition from out-of-town drivers, sweeping to victory in all of that division's racing events.

Larry Yates of Granite City City led the 20-lap sportsman class feature event from start to finish after thwarting strong challenges from Mike Wallace, Kris Krohn and Gary Wallace, all of St. Louis. The latter three finished second, third and fourth behind Yates.

Granite Cityans Tim Allen and John Kudelka captured their respective heat races. Gene Daley, 417 Madison Ave., reports he caught a six pound, eight-ounce rainbow trout last week at Bennett Spring State Park, Lebanon, Mo. He said the catch was made on a spinning rod using worm as bait.

The feature race victor's wife, Judy Wallace, piloted her sportsman division auto to the winner's circle in an eight-lap "powder puff" derby for women only.

This will be his third year in the state competition. Last year, he lost in the quarterfinals and the year before he was eliminated in the second round.

He was the only survivor from the local high school entries in the tournament here. His Warriors team tied for third place in the event.

Lebanon advanced its entire team to the state finals, winning the district tournament with 16 points. Also was second at 12 points and Edwardsville tied South for third with 10 points.

Other schools and their scores were Collinsville 6, Triad and Wood River 4 each, Bethalto 3, Madison and Jerseyville 1 each, and GCHS North and Roxana 0.

The tournament was played at GCHS North and South and the Wilson Park tennis courts.

Rusick opened with a 6-0, 6-0 victory over Patrick Winston of Madison and then defeated Rich Jarrett of Edwardsville 6-1, 6-0. Brad Harms of Lebanon was his next victim 6-1, 6-0.

Milarec was eliminated by third-seeded Julie Brownfield of Lebanon 5-7, 4-6.

The Warrior first-seeded doubles team of Mike Papes and Tim Frost drew a bye in the first round and topped Pete Wells and Dale Black of Collinsville 6-1, 6-1 before losing to Lebanon's Leigh Reynolds and John Wright 2-6, 6-7.

Warriors Kevin Worster and Mike Hayes were eliminated in the first doubles round by Andy BeDell and John Brainerd of Alton 4-6, 2-6.

Madison's singles players both lost in the second round. Winston defeated Mike Steckle of Jerseyville 6-2, 8-6 in the first round before losing to Rusick. Verba had a bye in the first round before losing to Milarec.

The Madison doubles team of Ronald Jones and Michael Woods was overpowered by Mark Hath and Dave Pedder of Collinsville 3-6, 3-6 in the first round.

The Granite City High School North team of Jim Harlan and Mike Haldeman drew a bye in the first round and lost to Bethalto's John Vogel and Brian Mick 6-7, 0-6 in the second round.

The other North Steeler doubles squad of Gary Eaker and Dave Gaudette lost to Pete Wells and Dale Black of Collinsville 3-6, 0-6 in the first round. Steeler Dave Haldeman lost to David Bucher of Alton 3-6, 4-6 in the opening round and Rich Herms of North dropped his match in that round to Jerry Cubria of Jerseyville 6-7, 1-6.

Schooley sets league record; South 4th in Southwestern track

Granite City High School South finished fourth in its final Southwestern Conference track and field meet Friday at the West Junior High stadium in Alton. The Warriors are withdrawing from the conference after the 1974-75 school year.

East St. Louis won with 99 points and the only other contender was host Alton High School with 79 points.

Edwardsville scored 28 teams points to edge GCHS South (28) and Belleville-West (27) for third place.

Cahokia earned 12 points, Belleville East 11 and Collinsville, four.

There were double honors for South High School's Tom Schooley, who was presented with the Ben Isselhardt

Memorial Award along with Alton's Larry Perry for outstanding track prowess. In Friday's competition, Schooley set a new conference record, one of seven established during the day.

Schooley ran the 330-yard low hurdles in 27.9 seconds, topping the 1974 record pace of 40 seconds by Langford of East St. Louis.

Two relay marks fell to East St. Louis. A time of 8:01.9 was set in the two-mile relay (8:05.1 previous record) and time of 43:15 seconds (44:2) in the 440-yard relay.

Other new records are: Half-mile run by Albert of Edwardsville 1:55.1 (1:56.5); long jump by Perry 24.5 (23.44); mile run by Sawyer of Alton 4:21.1

(4:24.4) and triple jump by Alton's Perry 47 feet, 2 inches (45-4).

South High was fourth in the mile relay and fifth in the half-mile relay.

Steve Watson earned fifth place in the pole vault.

In sophomore track competition, East St. Louis scored 78 points, Alton 70, Belleville East 46, Cahokia 32, GCHS South 27, Belleville West 20, Collinsville eight and Edwardsville, seven.

North captures its district baseball contest 2-1, aided by Carr, Logas, Scott, Reiter

The Granite City High School baseball Steelers won the opening game 2-1 over Edwardsville in the 1975 Illinois High School Association district baseball tournament, hosted by GCHS South Friday at Wilson Park. Play is continuing this week.

The winning run came in the eighth inning as Steeler Bill Carr doubled and, with two out, advanced to third on a wild pitch and scored on a single by pinchhitter Gene Logas.

The Steeler's other run came in the first inning when Harvey Breckner led off with a single, went to second base on a sacrifice bunt by Dave Harrison and scored on Jeff Reiter's single to left field.

John Scott was the winning pitcher, giving seven and two thirds innings. Bill Dickerson then took the mound for North with two out and a man on first, forcing the Tiger batter to ground out.

Edwardsville scored its only run on two hits in the fourth.

North totaled five hits and one error.

North Coach Bob Stegemeyer said, "In the fourth inning, Carr saved the day when he made a diving catch of a line drive. If that ball had gotten by him, the Tiger player on second would have been a home run for the Tiger batter."

In the eighth inning, Carr's double for most players would have been a single, but he hustled so fast that, before Edwardsville could figure out what to do he had made it to second.

Weather permitting, GCHS

South will play Collinsville today at 4 p.m. on diamond one in Wilson Park, and the Madison Trojans will play North on diamond two; also at 4 p.m. today.

The district championship game is to be played at 4 p.m.

Tuesday on diamond one.

If today's games are rained out, the schedule will move back one day, but stay in the same game order.

The district winners will advance to competition May 19-20-21 at Edwardsville.

Baseball Cougars top St. Louis U. nine 4-3, 3-0

Coach Roy Lee's Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball team swept a doubleheader Sunday afternoon from St. Louis University, 4-3 and 3-0 at Cougar Field. The twin victories ran the Cougars' season record to 18-11, including five wins in a row.

A former pro hurler himself, Lee was particularly pleased with the way the mound staff is jelling.

Said Lee: "If we get that tournament bid to the Midwest NCAA regional, our pitchers will be ready to go."

He pointed to a two-hit masterpiece that Mike Falzarana tossed at St. Louis U. in Sunday's second game and to the seven-hitter turned in against the Bills in the opener by Greg Wolke.

Earning second place awards were Dennis Ragan, wrestling in the 165 pound class, who lost the final match to a University of Tennessee grappler; and Kerry Johnson, working in the 149-pound division, who lost 3-0 in the finals but upset the Southeastern Conference champion in the semifinal bout.

Both Johnson and Ragan wrestled as seniors with the 1972-73 GCHS team.

As a team, the Granite City federation wrestling team finished in the round-robin tournament, losing in overall points to the Appalachian State Team of

News notes

The Illinois Senate has passed and sent to the House a bill to make it easier for cities, park boards and school districts to borrow money. The measure, drafted and supported by State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon, passed 36-11. It would create a municipal financing agency that would buy the bonds of governmental units with money raised from the sale of its own bonds to private investors.

A bill to guarantee at least $25 million to every state for public works projects has been approved by the U. S. House Public Works Committee. It provides $5 billion in emergency funds for projects that would reduce unemployment. The committee approved an amendment requiring that 70 per cent of the funds be spent in areas where unemployment exceeds the national average.

At least 30 witnesses have been subpoenaed to appear before a federal grand jury at Springfield investigating former state officials, politicians and contractors. The witnesses are to appear Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in an intensified effort to complete the investigation before the jury term is completed June 10. Most of those subpoenaed are highway and subcontractors.

Hundreds of unemployed laborers wearing yellow hardhats appeared at the capitol in Springfield last week to urge legislators to enact Gov. Walker's proposed accelerated building program. The workers represented construction trade unions and labor councils. They held a rally on the Capitol steps and then walked through the building to talk to legislators.

Action to force 79 electric power plants across the nation to burn coal instead of oil has been taken at Washington by Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Fire caused about $400 damage to the home of Sam Shackelford, 2914 Palmer Ave., Friday after an electrical short circuit set a ragter on fire. Firemen were called at 2:05 p.m. Friday to extinguish the fire.

Damage was estimated at $100 in a car fire which began in the auto of James Smith, 45 Briarview Lane, at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at West Pontoon Road and Briarcliff Drive. An electrical short circuit in the car's interior was believed to have been the cause.

Diane Schneider and Craig Signall are wed

MR. AND MRS. CRAIG SIGNALL, whose wedding took place at Concordia Lutheran Church. The bride is the former Miss Diane Schneider, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Schneider, 2354 Emert St.

(Heavy Studio)

Miss Diane Schneider, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Schneider, 2354 Emert St., and Craig Signall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Signall, St. Peters, Mo., were united in marriage on April 19 at Concordia Lutheran Church.

Palms and spring flowers adorned the altar for the 6 p.m. candlelight ceremony performed by the Rev. Arvin Twietmeyer.

Paul Mabry sang "We've Only Just Begun," "Sabbath Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer." He was accompanied at the organ by Miss Nancy Bergfield, a cousin of the bride.

For her wedding, the bride wore a long white chiffon gown complemented with a lace bordered mantilla veil. Scalloped Chantilly lace marked the oval neckline and wide cuffs of the long, full sleeves. A gathered flounce edged in lace encircled the semi-straight skirt.

She carried a cascade of white roses, turquoise carnations and baby's breath.

Miss Karen Schneider, a sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She chose a full length dress of blue and white floral voile designed with short puff sleeves and an Empire bodice.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Carolyn Koester, Mrs. Pam

Colp and Miss Camille Signall, the groom's sister, all appeared in aqua voile gowns. Narrow white trim accented the Empire bodices and a lace ruffle edged the high necklines and the cuffs of the long sleeves.

Each attendant held a nosegay of white, yellow and blue summer blossoms.

Melanie Mertz, a niece of the groom, was the flower girl. She was dressed in a long white eyelet frock fashioned with a Peter Pan collar, a ruffle at the hemline and an aqua pinafore. She carried a basket of flower petals.

Sean Sullivan, the groom's nephew, served as ringbearer. The groom chose his brother, Steve Signall, as best man. Al Kopic, Bill Yarbrough and Greig Sullivan, the groom's brother-in-law, were groomsmen.

Steven Schneider, a brother of the bride, Bruce Monahan and Randy and Ricky Schneider, cousins of the bride, served as ushers and candlelighters.

Guests were received at a reception at the Elks Lodge immediately following the ceremony. The newly married couple later departed on a honeymoon trip to Tan-Tar-A Resort in the Ozarks.

The rehearsal dinner was served at the Heritage House in St. Louis.

GC ball players try vainly to save boy

Several softball players from Granite City teams playing in a tournament Saturday tried vainly to rescue a 14-year-old boy who drowned while swimming in a flooded drainage ditch near the Wood River Park's softball diamonds, adjacent to Route Three.

The body of Robert Wayne Gibbs, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gibbs, 218 W. Main St., Wood River, was recovered from the 20-to-25-foot deep ditch by the Wood River Emergency Corps and Fire Department about 6:45 p.m. Saturday, and was not 1 1/2 hours after the boy was reported under the water.

Two Granite City teams, Buzz's and Sammy's, were just starting their game when a young boy and small girl ran up to an outfielder asking him to help their friend who was drowning, Gene Kuehnel, a member of Buzz's team, said. "At one time there were at least 15 guys in the water," Kuehnel said. Those involved in the rescue were reported as being unable to see beneath the surface due to the muddy water, complicated with a chemical or oil substance which caused the eyes to burn.

Wood River police said today they receive frequent calls about youngsters swimming in the ditch. "We run them off, but they keep coming back," an officer said. The ditch very deep and has a slight current flowing south, he added.

"Quite a few ballplayers were in the water looking for the boy when we arrived," the officer noted.

The Gibbs boy apparently was playing with two friends. One told police he was helping Robert along when he began struggling and pulling and pulling until he was able to get him out of the water and then Robert went down beneath the surface. The friend said he climbed out of the water and ran to get help.

A children's playground area is near the ballpark and many of the Granite City players were accompanied by their families. "No one knew at first where the kid was in the water," Kuehnel said. Members of the Victory and Woodrow Mills softball teams had just finished playing and the Crystal Clear Ice squad was in the stands watching, he said. All are Granite City Park District teams.

Robert would have graduated May 26 from Lewis and Clark Junior High School, where he was an eighth grade pupil. He was one of 13 children, it was learned.

Funeral services will take place at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at a Wood River mortuary.

Hearing

state agency requested voluntary submission of records and the company did not comply. Anthony B. Cameron of EPA's division assisted in obtaining the search warrant. Frederick L. Smith, an Illinois EPA source emission specialist, then signed the request for the search warrant. He said the warrant was issued either by the company or on its behalf.

Roger C. Zehntner, an EPA attorney, said submission of incorrect information would be a violation of the 1970 Illinois Environmental Protection Act. It is a misdemeanor to "knowingly submit any false information" to the state agency.

"While criminal prosecution may be sought, Briceland said, a more realistic approach is that the EPA must have 'adequate and accurate results' from such a test 'if we're to be bringing on the full compliance with air pollution control regulations.'"

The Illinois metropolitan area opposite to the west is the state in particulates (dust); Briceland asserted.

Issuance of rule variances during development of and pollution devices were halted by the Illinois Pollution Control Board in September 1974.

But since then the EPA has announced no specific compliance schedule for Granite City Steel for possible imposition of penalties by the Pollution Control Board.

Smith alleges that Granite City Steel about Jan. 30 sent the Illinois EPA a package of test results. He said the testing took place at the direction of the U.S. EPA, which is not involved in the current court activity.

Smith said he was at the test site but, along with all state and federal investigators, refused access to the processing area during all but a very short period of time, thereby being prevented from viewing the process.

In its petition seeking quashing of the search warrant, Granite City Steel said the test was made pursuant to federal requirements and not in response to the Illinois agency or state regulatory act.

Randal Robertson, an attorney for the firm, contended that material seized by the Illinois EPA included information that could damage Granite City Steel and its subsidiaries.

A company spokesman denied that there has been a refusal to give the state agency information about the December test. He said a copy of the test report, including all data and calculations, was given to pollution officials.

The Illinois EPA disagrees that it received adequate information. It also says it wants production data over an extended period of time.

The company thinks the production information had no bearing on the test.

It stressed that the state has access to a detailed report filed with the U.S. EPA and that the state observer at the test was there for only about half the time.

Eaton quoted Smith as calling the data "Suspect." Eaton added that it was decided not to sue the state for discovery because this could have constituted a "fishing expedition."

directed the Office of Education to implement the regulations fully and prepare a list of possible penalties against districts which are not in compliance.

Withholding state or federal aid to the districts is one possible penalty.

The guidelines requires that the minority population in each school be within 15 percent of the total minority population in the district.

Cronin's report said that segregation has decreased since 1971 in Venice School District 3.

Cronin said his staff would immediately survey parents and request the information by the end of the school year. Responses would be analyzed and additional recommendations for action prepared by next September, Cronin said.

The board's vote on the desegregation rules followed a report by Robert Lyons, assistant superintendent for urban and cultural education in the state office, on the status of racial segregation in the state's public school system.

Lyons said 24 school districts have either desegregated or decreased segregation while another 30 districts have either remained unchanged or become increasingly segregated.

He paid $2,014 property taxes, $3,222 state taxes and $49,121 federal taxes, the latter including $12,678 withheld from paychecks and $36,443 paid at the end of the year. Seek $15 million flood control funds

Cong. Melvin Price, D-23rd District, has received a $15 million request from the Kaskaskia River navigation project, the St. Clair and Madison Counties interior flood control plan and the Mississippi River Navigation program.

In his appearance before the House Appropriation Subcommittee on Public Works, Rep. Price noted "although we face severe budgetary constraints, adequate funding of these and other public works projects is essential for regaining and maintaining our economic vitality."

Rep. Price requested $15,371,000 in construction, operation and maintenance funds for the Kaskaskia River navigation project which he termed "significant to our quest for energy self sufficiency because it opens the vast coal fields of Southern Illinois to expanded operation."

The new agreement calls for a 31-cent across-the-board increase during the first year, and 2 per cent each of the second and third years of the contract.

Under the old contract, hourly wages for the workers varied from $4.37 to $6.39 — an average wage of $5.81 per hour.

Other points of the new contract include inclusion of 78 cents in cost-of-living increases accrued under the old contract into the wage base, and payment of a disputed 17 cents per hour increase from an earlier contract on a retroactive basis for 41 weeks. A union spokesman said this would mean about $300 to the average member.

The new pact also provides continued payment of shift premiums on a percentage basis, and extension to three years of the period in which a member can retain seniority while being laid off.

Barnes said the new contract is an improvement over the proposal originally offered by the company.

The Women's Club of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will sponsor a flea market-boutique-bake sale Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the SIUE Towsley Center on St. Louis Road, Edwardsville.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to augment the scholarship fund established in March 1974 by the SIUE Women's Club. The loan fund is available to full-time women students at SIUE maintaining a 3.0 ("C") scholastic average.

Business Women add to libraries

Autographed copies of 'A Measure Filled', the life of Lena Madess Phillips drawn from her autobiography by Lisa Sergio, were presented last week to the Quad-Cities' four high school libraries by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club.

Mrs. LaVelle Stephens, BPW corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Edna Kohlbrecher, legislation chairman, made the presentations at the Venice, Madison and two Granite City high schools. Personally inscribed to each school by the author, the books were accepted by school librarians and principals. The subject of the non-fictional work is Lena Madess Phillips who, in 1919, against all established tradition, apathy and ignorance founded the Federation of Business and Professional Women, thereby bringing American women together for the first time, Mrs. Stephens explained.

Accepting the gift volume at Venice High School was Barbara Williams, librarian. Charles Pickett of the Madison High School library and Richard Corbin, principal, were presented the book at their respective school.

In Granite City Mrs. Judy Hampton, librarian, received the book for South High School, and North Principal Gilbert Walmsley and Miss Evelyn Laux, librarian, at North High.

MISS LINDA CATHERINE NOUD, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer W. Noud of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City, are announcing her engagement to Kevin Roy Stroyeck. A June 28 wedding is planned.

SIU Board rejects tuition increase

The Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University voted Thursday not to increase tuition charges for health education.

The trustees took the action after discussing recommendations which had been made by the Health Education Commission of the Board of Higher Education for higher tuition charges for public schools of medicine, dentistry and veterinary medicine.

The recommendations had been a matter of discussion since they were offered by the commission in December.

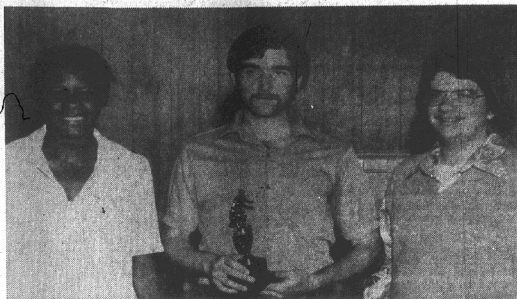

The SIU Board approved a resolution at its December meeting stipulating that the level of tuition charges is now and ought to remain within the sound discretion of local governing boards, and that the recommendations of the Health Education Commission staff for increases in tuition in the Schools of Medicine and Dental Medicine should be studied by the schools and the administrations of their respective universities.

The administration of the School of Dental Medicine of SIUE at Edwardsville has consistently opposed an increase in tuition. Students presently pay $872 a year, the same rate charged for any SIUE curriculum.

A report given to SIU trustees contends that the School of Dental Medicine was established to help meet a critical shortage of dentists in downstate Illinois, and a tuition increase would place undue hardship on downstate dental students and severely limit the ability of the school to meet the needs for which it was established.

Youth greatest resource

"Youth is our greatest resource," Dr. Raymond Troyer told the Thursday noon meeting of the Granite City Optimist Club in the YMCA.

Dr. Troyer teaches psychology and trains counselors at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and is a member of the board of directors of the National Youth Development Foundation (NYDF).

He has been involved with Co-ordinated Youth Services and the YMCA here for many years and has been active in youth work for 45 years.

Dr. Troyer, in explaining the work of the foundation, said it started in 1971, after years of planning, research and experimentation.

Primarily, the foundation develops and sponsors co-ed youth programs to meet the needs and interest of special groups and promotes the development of a positive self-image among youth.

In promoting the development of a positive self-image, the foundation helps the young person become a happier, self-accepting person with a love of life and mankind, according to the speaker.

The NYDF provides financial support and consultant services to qualified agencies for the operation of various youth programs, including Camp Fire Girls, 4-H Camps, Girl Scouts, and YMCA.

Nearly 20,000 children from all backgrounds, races, and creeds have been able to participate in NYDF programs since the organization began, he said.

Need not pay tax to get Circuit Breaker relief

Senior and disabled residents of Illinois need not have paid property taxes in 1974 to qualify for the additional tax relief provided under the state's Circuit Breaker Law.

Illinois Revenue Director Robert H. Alphin said today there apparently was still some confusion about who could qualify under the new tax relief program.

"It's true that the new grants are available under the Circuit Breaker Law, which originally was aimed at relieving property taxes only," Alphin said. "But the amendment to the law has set up a second tax relief program that bases tax relief only on the amount of the applicant's income."

"Any Illinois resident 65 or older by Jan. 1 or unable to work a year or more because of a physical or mental disability can qualify if his annual household income was $10,000 or less."

The new tax relief ranges from $50 to $100, depending on income. Alphin said people who lived in residences not subject to the property tax were eligible for the additional tax relief, including residents of public housing and mental institutions. Mentally or physically handicapped residents 16 and older also are eligible.

The director said application blanks could be obtained by writing the Department of Revenue, Circuit Breaker Section, Box 4017, Springfield, Ill., 62708.

First tax relief checks

Gov. Dan Walker has activated a computer run to authorize the first tax relief checks that will be going out under a new law providing additional tax relief for Illinois senior and disabled citizens.

Gov. Walker said the first checks — to more than 43,000 senior and disabled people — average nearly $80 each and total more than $2.4 million.

The payments are the first authorized under a new law signed by Gov. Walker two weeks ago. The law adds a new cash grant to the state's circuit breaker tax relief program. It provides between $50 and $100 to every senior (65 or over) and disabled resident of Illinois whose annual income is less than $10,000.

Gov. Walker said: "It is just two weeks since this tax relief program took effect, and today the first set of payments are ready."

"This is the kind of government responsiveness I like to see."

Revenue Department employees moved faster than anyone predicted in getting the payments ready, and I commend each employee who has worked on the program.

"Because of their quick response, we are able to provide the kind of action from government that senior citizens deserve — after paying their taxes and supporting government most of their lives."

Live Hogs hit $48.00 last week, so watch your Pork Prices. We have a real good buy on Pork Steaks this week; but we wonder what the deal will be by Decoration Day.

One of our oldest customers passed away recently, Simon Barzoff, a long time Schermer customer, passed away at age 93. Simon was one of our favorite people. Always a big smile on his face when he came in with his payroll check, with the question "boss-man" cash my check? He called everybody "boss-man". He worked at the old brickyard and was strong as an ox. He retired at age 65 and after nine months his supervisor prevailed upon him to come back to work because the "young bucks" who replaced him, just couldn't "cut the mustard". He then worked another seven or nine years and finally retired for keeps. He kept busy during his retirement raising an extensive garden in Cloverleaf Addition and walked from 13th and Iowa out to Cloverleaf early every morning and returned late at night. His proudest moments were displaying the results of his labors in the garden particularly his prize hot peppers. He was a great guy; and he lived a good life. He will be missed at Schermer Bros.

Newtones at GC police dance Friday

As part of the annual "Law and Order Week" celebration, being observed this week, the Granite City Police Department will sponsor its 14th annual benefit dance at 9 p.m. Friday in the Collinsville Park Ballroom.

Proceeds from the affair are contributed to the Granite City Police Officers Health and Welfare Fund. Other activities marking the week-long observance include the Elks "Law and Order Banquet" at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at Granite City Elks Lodge 1063, when officers from all area police departments are honored.

Tickets for Friday's dance still are available at $2.50 each from any Granite City police officer or at police headquarters, located on the lower floor of the City Hall.

Highlighting the benefit event will be the music of The Newtones, a group whose musical talents lends itself to lively polkas or romantic ballads.

Led by Howard Mason of Granite City, lead vocalist and bass guitarist, the other musicians are Don Longust of Belleville, a widely-traveled trombonist; John Firmont of Florissant, Mo., who performs at the organ, piano and on the accordion; and John Fornaszewski of Granite City, well-known drummer.

Refreshments and setups will be available to dance patrons throughout the evening, according to Patrolman Fred Hoffman, project chairman.

Wins nursing scholarship

Miss Cheryl Smith, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith, 2141 Dawn Place, is the recipient of the Noon-Day Opti-Mrs. Club scholarship for nursing.

She will graduate in June from Granite City High School North and has been accepted at Jewish Hospital, School of Nursing, St. Louis.

The scholarship provides $300 a year for the full two-year course.

Miss Smith has been active in the Silver Spirit Pep Club, a member of the student council, cheerleader for the 1974 soccer season and a board member of the Girls Athletic Association. Since January, Miss Smith has been taking an extended education course at St. Elizabeth Hospital as part of her high school curriculum for training as a unit clerk.

Mrs. Donna Yehling, ways

The group agreed to contribute to the camping fund for the young people of the church. Plans were made for an installation of officers and auction set for June 2 at the church.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Lucretia Wright, Mrs. Clara Ledbetter and Mrs. Annabelle Patton.

VANDALIZE HOUSE

Four men in their 20s and a young woman were seen leaving the home of Paula Wells, 2031 Bryan Ave., by a neighbor who had heard glass breaking and other noise in the house at 4:50 p.m. Thursday. The front door was kicked open, a record player was overturned and the lid damaged and the glass in a dresser was broken out. The young people left in a tan or gold auto with reddish primer spots, it was reported.

MARRIED. Air Force Lieutenant and Mrs. Mark Stephan Caldwell, who were united in marriage at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Janet Sue Barchesky, a daughter of Joe Barchesky of Granite City and Mrs. Sylvia McCarty of Hawkpoint, Mo.

Janet Barchesky becomes Mrs. Mark S. Caldwell

Sacred Heart Catholic Church was the scene of the April 19 wedding of Miss Janet Sue Barchesky, a daughter of Joe Barchesky of Granite City and Mrs. Sylvia McCarty of Hawkpoint, Mo., and Second Lieutenant Mark Stephan Caldwell, U.S. Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Caldwell, 1713 Spring Ave.

The Rev. James P. Hill officiated at the 2 p.m., double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with bouquets of summer flowers and greenery. A full length gown of white knit chiffon made with an Alençon lace yoke, stand-up collar, long tapered sleeves and a modified A-line skirt was worn by the bride.

Her matchless lace headpiece was secured to a tiered veil of bridal illusion and she held a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath, interspersed with English ivy.

Honor attendant Miss Susan L. Kintz and bridesmaids Miss Vicki Dennis, Mrs. Stanslee March and Miss Michele Barchesky, the latter two sisters of the bride couple, were dressed alike.

Their long, halter-style gowns of powder blue knit were designed with high necklines and complemented by long sleeved jackets made with hoods.

Each held a nosegay of blue and white carnations and pom poms. William Ogden attended the groom as best man. Steven Barchesky, a brother of the bride, William Bagi, Mike Sibtharp and Richard Williams completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was hosted at Holy Trinity Hall in Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Konopka, 3137 Davis Ave., an uncle and aunt of the bride, entertained the bridal party for the rehearsal dinner. Both young people graduated from Granite City High School. The groom also graduated from Parks Air College, Cahokia, with a B.S. degree in aeronautics. He now attends navigator's training school at Mather AFB, Sacramento, Calif.

They are now residing in Sacramento following a wedding trip to Colorado.

Plans for the PTA's final program of the school year were made at a board meeting held in the home of Mrs. Helene Kettelhut.

Mrs. Sheila MacLaughlin presided and a report on the sixth grade banquet was submitted by Mrs. Margaret Peeney, who said the event will take place at 6 p.m. May 29. The school picnic was set for May 22 and the PTA has agreed to provide tickets for food. Mrs. MacLaughlin said movies will be shown for children accompanying parents to Tuesday night's meeting.

Gordon Smith named to education post

State Supt. of Education Joseph M. Cronin, has announced that Gordon A. Smith, director of equal employment opportunity and affirmative action programs at Northern Illinois University, has been appointed affirmative action officer for the Illinois Office of Education.

The appointment is effective July 1.

Cronin said Smith, 42, will be in charge of developing and implementing a plan to improve employment opportunities for women and minorities in the state education agency.

Smith has served since 1973 as administrator of equal employment opportunity and affirmative action matters at NIU with the official title of assistant to the president.

He began his career in 1961 as a public aid case worker in his native Detroit, Mich. and later taught special education classes there. He moved to NIU in 1970 as coordinator of academic and counseling services for a program for educationally deficient students.

He has a bachelor's degree in special education from Wayne State University and a master's degree in guidance and counseling from Northern Illinois University. He is currently a candidate for a doctorate from Northern.

In announcing the appointment, Supt. Cronin said, "The elimination of racism and sexism in Illinois education must begin in our own office. The State Board of Education has asked us to move quickly toward that goal. I am pleased that we have been able to find a person of Gordon Smith's talents and experience for this sensitive assignment and I am confident that our commitment to equal opportunity in hiring and promotions will be fulfilled."

Smith was among more than 20 candidates considered for the job.

As a preliminary step toward an affirmative action program, the state board has accepted a report from an internal committee which indicated that women and minority group persons are under-utilized in leadership positions in the state education office.

The report recommended hiring such persons in proportion to their numbers in the labor force and at salary levels reflecting a policy of non-discrimination.

Basic questions on how to determine public interest are raised by the Alton dam replacement controversy

Profound questions are raised by the current controversy over whether the aging Alton locks and dam should be replaced with a new facility two miles downstream from the present Mississippi River dam.

A suit seeking to block the project—filed at the last minute before the consideration of initial construction bids—is not exceptionally surprising in itself. Major public works expenditures are receiving increasing scrutiny across the nation, and the Army Corps of Engineers is being required to show much broader justification for its proposals than economic benefits, formerly the chief factor.

The fact of the Alton dam debate that raises such fundamental questions is that one transportation industry—railroads—is waging a direct fight against another—waterways shippers. Whether this will lead to retaliation when various railway assistance measures are pondered remains to be seen.

Aside from the merits of the Alton replacement plan, one wonders whether there will be a traumatic impact on many future non-waterway construction proposals, both good and bad. It has become difficult to achieve clearance for any undertaking that affects large numbers of people. With the added element of one form of freight movement attacking another, such authorizations may become virtually impossible under present laws and procedures.

If the dam and locks could be viewed singly, it seems doubtful that there would be a long delay. The old Alton lock facilities are inadequate and hazardous, and on many occasions cause unconscionable delays in the forwarding of vital goods and commodities.

But a major contention by 21 railroads and two citizens groups is that replacing the Alton locks and dam would set a precedent.

It was argued last week before a U. S. Senate appropriations subcommittee that the local project would be followed by the building of "massive new lock structures up the Mississippi and Illinois Rivers."

The opponents foresee a vast waterway expansion costing as much as $10 billion, quadrupling commercial navigation up to 190 million tons, diverting 140 million tons of traffic from railroads and perhaps eliminating thousands of railroad jobs.

There were warnings of "enormous havoc" in the rail industry, possibly leading to a "collapse" of service to such metropolitan areas as St. Louis. It was predicted that there would be an adverse effect on this region's economy due to inability of some rail shippers to switch to barges or trucks.

And there were allegations that expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars at Alton would be merely a down payment on a "secret Executive Corps plan" to construct a system of larger locks and deeper channels on the two rivers.

Deeper channelization has been denied, and many of the other assertions have been disputed. Presumably, court proceedings eventually will uncover the truth and permit the advantages and disadvantages to be objectively weighed.

Local concern emphasizes the amount of time involved in reaching final adjudication, and also the propriety of making a single project hostage to a potential series of other public works decisions unlikely to become an issue for decades or generations.

Another point is brought to mind by President Gerald R. Ford's Executive Order 11821 requiring inflation impact statements on major legislative or regulatory proposals. Passage of time would seem to pose a major additional hurdle for a new Alton dam, due to future inflation's escalation of the already substantial price tag.

Rules raise prices

At first glance, you may be appalled to President Ford's desire to eliminate or weaken government regulation of business. After all, opinion polls show that many people favor more government regulation, rather than less. So, what is he talking about?

First of all, he is not talking about completely doing away with all government control over business. Obviously, it is necessary for government to insure that our economy operates in some kind of orderly fashion.

If there were no rules at all, there would be anarchy and our system would collapse. Even our Constitution specifies that government has the duty to "regulate commerce."

The real problem is that our regulatory system has grown like Topsy over the years without too much relationship to our economy.

For example, intricate regulatory machinery was set up for the railroads, which might have been needed in the days of the "robber barons."

Many of the restrictions written then no longer make any sense. President Ford wants to reform these regulations, which, he says, would result in great savings for consumers and also save about 70,000 barrels of oil each day.

He also wants to reform the rules for airlines and truckers. In trucking, there are rules about no pickups or deliveries. There recently has been a rash of lower fares on the airlines which have won government approval. But isn't it interesting that they, and some other industries, must get federal approval to charge you less?

You, as a consumer, pay for every bit of government regulation as business. The Ford Administration calculates that it costs each family about $2,000 a year. He also estimates that fair trade laws cost consumers $2 billion a year.

While this is happening, the food situation is already far more desperate than most people realize, says Strohm in his article on page 1. A question facing mankind today is...

"Millions of children go to bed hungry each night, and many of them, even if they live, will have their brains permanently stunted because of lack of protein. Strohm says that describing a 'routine morning of corpse collection' in famine-ravaged Bengal."

And all the government regulation is accompanied by a vast amount of paperwork.

As of last June, the number of federal forms that business must fill out totaled 5,146 separate types.

Obviously, it takes a lot of time and money for business to do that work. The money has to come from the prices it charges you.

At the same time, government keeps putting in new regulations. There is no doubt that some of them are needed, but there is no doubt, either, that some of them cost more than they are worth.

Congress recognized one instance of this last year when it did away with the law requiring that automobiles couldn't be started unless the seatbelts were fastened. If you bought a car equipped with that mechanism, you paid for it.

Sure, big government may need to watch over us to some extent. But as President Ford has commented, "The government big enough to give us everything we want is a government big enough to take from us everything we have."

The report refers to President Ford's public policy goal of doubling the current level of coal production in 10 years and the Federal Energy Administration's estimate that rail coal traffic will have to increase by about the same percentage.

FEA foresees no obstacle to using current reserves of high sulfur coal—such as from Illinois mines—by 1985.

And it believes much of the expected increase in coal output will be able to expand claims over real resources through inflation and investment would expand.

Workers bargaining for wage increases sufficient to both maintain real incomes and account for any inflation in brackets because of inflation would no longer need worry about the latter; wage demands would be reduced automatically.

Despite those attractions, the idea is not seriously being adopted by politicians, according to James Buckley, senator from New York, although Californians are talking about state income tax inflation adjustments.

It is easy to understand why liberals oppose the idea and don't even like to discuss it. As a matter of liberal theology, a public sector that expands through the subterfuge of the progressive tax rate is all to the good.

The "fiscal dividend" that liberals hail as the means of financing expanded social programs is little more than the government's increased tax bite that accrues silently, through inflation.

De-indexing the government wage schedule to make it more conservative and moderates. They shy away from it because the tax reductions involved would, as a first approximation, increase the impending federal deficits, with the attendant effects on the credit markets.

De-indexing is clearly preferable to the kind of tax cut we have already had; its stimulative effect would be far greater, thus reducing the imputed deficit by increasing federal revenues.

Rail access to coal essential

(Press-Record)
Washington Bureau

A critical federal report on the U. S. Railway Association's preliminary plan for revitalizing bankrupt railroads mentions the need to retain branch lines in the coal fields and to look at commuter operations.

The report was released by the Rail Services Planning Office (RSPO) of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Congress established RSPO to evaluate the USA's preliminary plan to reorganize and restructure seven bankrupt roads in the Northeast and Midwest into an effective system to be called CONrail.

RSPO Director George M. Chandler, in the report, called USA's plan "a disappointing document."

He urged that the final plan, due in July, correct the shortcomings of the preliminary plan by fully disclosing all facts that might affect CONrail's potential success.

Population trend is said to make severe famine likely

(National Wildlife Federation)

With its population expected to double, from four billion to eight billion, in the next 35 years, the world is headed for a food-and-population crisis in which millions of people will die of starvation.

That is the grim prediction of a veteran foreign correspondent and environmental writer in the May-June issue of International Wildlife magazine, published by the nation's largest conservation organization, the National Wildlife Federation.

"The toughest story I've ever had to write," John Strohm, who has written on food and agriculture from his country reports that, "despite exciting new agricultural breakthroughs, the feeders are falling behind the breeders."

Inflation brings high tax bracket

Wall Street Journal — One year ago we urged consideration of an idea that, with the benefit of hindsight, we are sure have helped prevent some of the nation's current economic troubles had it been implemented: De-indexing the federal government.

We return to the theme, disappointed that there has been almost no national discussion of the idea even though it seems foolproof, i.e., it adds no new taxes, and it does not increase the federal government's revenues.

The idea is simply to put the federal government on the same footing as the people during this inflationary era, doing so by making annual automatic adjustments in the personal income tax schedules.

As it now stands, the federal government harvests an inflationary reward through the progressivity of the tax system.

Consider: If prices double and nominal incomes remain the same, nominal incomes are doubled and all workers are pushed into higher brackets.

The government's revenues not only keep up with inflation, but the government actually increases its claim on real resources.

Had the tax schedules been tied to prices last year, on Jan. 1, the tax brackets would have been adjusted upward across the board to reflect last year's 14 per cent increase in the Consumer Price Index.

The effect would have been a tax reduction of about $15 billion and a pure economic stimulant, with such favorable supply and demand effects that Treasury might even come out ahead on revenues.

Instead, the administration and Congress dithered for months before agreeing on a $22.8 billion package of economic stimulation that has almost no desirable supply side effect.

What's more, because inflation is still inexorably increasing, the government's claim on real resources via this progressive tax trap, what stimulation there might be in that $22.8 billion package is probably being offset.

In a real sense, the tax on capital is still being increased daily by pushing incomes up via dividends, interest and capital gains up the tax schedules, and, of course, it is even clearer that the inflation tax is rising.

The facts are incontrovertible: Lambert Field has a limited life; a new airport will be needed.

There are no feasible sites for an airport in Missouri; the Columbia-Waterloo site is well located; and it is acceptable for a standpoint of economic, air space and environmental considerations." The Percy letter spelled out the delegation's argument.

Energy dependence defended

(University News Service)

At a time when President Gerald R. Ford and Congress both appear bent on energy self-sufficiency for the United States, one way or another, two Southern Illinois University at Carbondale economists have proposed a bold shift in policy.

They say America should increase its dependence on foreign sources.

Douglas R. Bohl and Milton Russell claim that political strategies like Project Independence and tariff and import quotas to attain energy independence, particularly in petroleum products, might be illogical and far too costly.

What the economists propose in their recently published book, "U. S. Energy Policy: Alternatives for Security," is global interdependence.

It is a policy Bohl says "has been in practice in Europe for years and one which much of the world considers Americans to be fools for not considering."

Essentially, Bohl and Russell say the United States should encourage energy-rich nations to invest their money in the American marketplace by buying into land, banks, corporations and American expertise.

Such investments, they claim, would allow these countries to diversify their economies and guarantee greater future returns on the money they now are selling their energy resources—namely, oil.

Russell has been on leave from SIUC to serve on the staff of the President's Council of Economic Advisors and is scheduled to be a senior staff economist for the Council next year.

He and Bohl have been studying U. S. and world energy policies and resources for the past four years under a grant from Resources for the Future, Inc., a non-profit organization.

An interdependent approach, they say, would mean:

1. More countries, such as the Arab nations, would be willing to manufacture and export more petroleum products because of newly-created investment opportunities for their own citizens. The price of oil would drop.

2. In addition to the worldwide availability of more oil at a lower price, American prospects for secure, affordable petroleum products would be much brighter.

"On the other hand, if we were to encourage a country such as Saudi Arabia to invest billions of dollars in the United States—land, banks, corporations like General Motors and, especially, many of the downstream petroleum enterprises, refineries, petroleum tankers, gasoline stations, automobile production, etc., can you imagine that country cutting off our oil supplies?"

"America can achieve energy self-sufficiency," says Bohl. "But the price we would have to pay would be horribly high and the time we would be forced to do without would be considerable."

Bohl doubts that his and Russell's proposals will get very far, as far as U. S. policy is concerned.

"There is a definite mind-set in this country which is tied up in the idea of independence," he said.

"It is largely something which is politically created, and, after all, economics is controlled by politicians."

"And many politicians are not given to trying to improve their knowledge."

He thinks elected officials would hesitate to support the massive educational process necessary to change the public's point of view.

Illinois Congressional delegation unanimously seeking new airport

By LESTER BELL

Attention is being called to the fact that the entire Illinois congressional delegation signed a demand by Sen. Charles H. Percy that the Department of Transportation and more than three years of "procrastination" on the St. Louis airport decision.

Percy's office, in releasing the text of his letter to new Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman said the senator sought a meeting to press for the Illinois site in Columbia-Waterloo.

The delegation reminded Coleman that the City of St. Louis for some years sought a replacement site for outgrown Lambert Field and that a study subsequently concluded that a 20-mile site, 10 miles from St. Louis, was the most favorable location for a new airport.

A resolution on an application by the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority for approval of Columbia-Waterloo has been pending before DOT for more than three years. So far, the only "compromise" environmental impact statement and an application for land acquisition funds.

There are no feasible sites for an airport in Missouri; the Columbia-Waterloo site is well located; and it is acceptable for a standpoint of economic, air space and environmental considerations." The Percy letter spelled out the delegation's argument.

Salvation Army Week May 12-19

Governor Dan Walker has declared this week as Salvation Army Week and urged citizens throughout the state to assist in the organization's programs to aid the less fortunate.

The proclamation, issued at Springfield, said:

Salvation Army Week May 12-19

"Found a hundred and ten years ago in London, the Salvation Army has been helping people in the United States for ninety-five years.

"This international charitable, evangelical Christian organization has served hundreds of thousands of people in a variety of ways.

"In Illinois the Salvation Army has seven social service centers where men and women renovate and process donated furniture and other articles. It operates detoxification, youth and medical centers and homes for unwed mothers.

"The centers not only provide food and shelter but also needed counseling, medical and dental care, athletic programs, instructions in handicraft and cooking. Many families made homeless by fire or other catastrophe and many needy transients have found warmth and understanding in Army facilities.

"Therefore, I, Dan Walker, Governor of the State of Illinois, proclaim May 12-19, 1975, Salvation Army Week and suggest that all Illinoisans assist in its commendable programs to aid the less fortunate."
